AV Software Pvt. Ltd. introduces the latest version of iolo technologies' product DriveScrubber in India. DriveScrubber is personal security software that securely wipes data from hard drives, removable media, cameras and other devices and protects against hackers and identity thieves. Using DriveScrubber, customers can securely wipe all contents of a PC or drive when upgrading to a new computer or new operating system.

DriveScrubber uses military-approved methods for securely removing files and data from hard drives and other storage devices. It offers various levels of data removal, ranging from a quick one-pass method that protects against basic data recovery tools, to more sophisticated methods that exceed U.S. Department of Defense standards and protect against advanced electron-microscopy recovery techniques.

Other important uses for DriveScrubber include recovering from system corruption or a disaster stemming from virus or spyware infection. DriveScrubber allows users to completely wipe all remnants of stubborn malware that antivirus or anti-spyware programs may not be able to touch. This process brings the PC's drives to like-new condition before reinstalling the operating system and any pre-existing programs.
